Spend Day in Boasting What Their Respective Boats Will Do to Each Other.

(Special to The Evening World.) HIGHLANDS, N. J., May 15.—Wilson Marshall's arrow-prowed, three-masted schooner Atlantic and George Lander, slender two-master Endymion rode idly at their moorings within the Horseshoe all day. What with faint uncertain breezes and sliding cloudbanks, the skippers of the two fleet American yachts decided there would be no merit in a try out. The entire fleet of eleven craft that will engage in the great cross-sens struggle for the yacht supremacy of the world were taken down in tow of their Moorings were staked off for the fleet of racers within the Horseshoe and then it remained only for the final grooming. The usual advance guard of vachting enthusiasts and curious old tars fussed about all day in launches and fittle bobtail skiffs, picking up what few crumbs of information there or the drifts in the vapor-hung sky. There was no promise of brisk air for to-morrow por fair weather for a good start. As for any chance of setting canvas and trying its stretch and fit in preparation for the final spreading of wings in the great fliht at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, Charley Barr, the famous helmsman of the Atlantic, and James Loesch, commander of the Yankee crew on the Endymion, said there would be none.

Hoist Sail and Away.

Hoist Sail and Away.

"It will be a case of holst sail and away," said Capt Berr. "so that about the first peep we'll get of our riva"s clouds of sail will the preliminary signals. It is to be hoped that this chick. snurky weather will lift under to morrow's sun or blow away under a rattling off-shore breeze. The mest hopeful weather eye, however, can't see any streat promise of a flying start now."

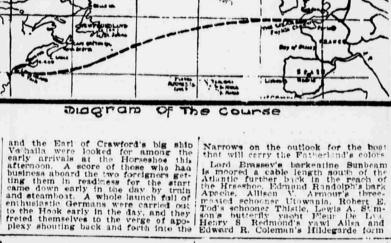

The Atlantic and Endymion are anchored within hailing distance, and when there were idle moments on the hands of the two areas they buzzed each other across the narrow stretch of water, bragging as only seamen can brag in such times.

There are abourd the Endymion wany of the crack crew whi sailed her from New York to the Needles in 13 days. 20 hours and 3s minutes in 1901, establishing the transatiantic yacht record. They expect to do this and better and they told the tars abourd the Atlantic how after reaching the English goal they'd gi out to sea and tow the tower-

Themes J. Dowling, driver of a heavy delivery waren of the russell tee Cream Company, had just delivered some tee creatal No. 155 West Forty-fourth street, when his horses became frightened at a bassing automobile and ran toward Broadway full speed. They rend diagonally across Times square toward Seventh avenue. Kammerer, guiding his horse close to them, selfad the bridle on the off side and clung on. Cupalingham, who was at Forty-fifth street, ran down to head the runaways off. He selzed the bridle on the near side. The horses fell in a heap at the gutter and both policemen were thrown under the kicking animals.

Although badly hurt the men clung to the bridles and nevented the horses continuing the run. The driver was arrested, and later arraigned before Market Court. He said the automobile caused the runaway and Magistrate Cornell discharged him.

"My scalp was covered with little pimples and I suffered tortures from the itching. I was scratching all day and night, and I could get no rest. I washed my head with hot water and Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment as a dressing. One box of the ointment and one cake of box of the ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap cured me. Now my head is entirely clear and my hair is growing splendidly. I have used Cu-ticura Soap ever since, and shall never be without it. (signed) Ada C. Smith, 309 Grand St., Jersey City, N.J."

Veteran Educator Dead.

MIDDLETOWN, CONN.. MAY 15.— Daniel Henry Chase, the oldest grad-tute of Wesleyan University, and who as valedictorian of his class, that of 1833, received the first diploma issued by the then newly founded Wesleyan College, died to-day, in his ninety-first year. He was a native of Hoosick, N.Y. Some years after his college graduation Mr. Chase opened a boy's preparatory school here, which became one of the best known institutions of its kind in the country. Mr. Chase continued in close relations with Wesleyan until 1870, when he retired from educational work. He founded the Wesleyan Scientific Association in 1862. His active nembership in the Mathodist denomination began in 1834.
